

Grand Theft Auto III

Gener Guzman

No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise, without written permission of the publisher. For more information regarding permission, write to Rockstar North or Rockstar Games., New York.

Book Code

Copyright© 2021 by Gener Guzman
All rights reserved. Published for Take-Two Interactive.,
New York, NY,

By arrangement with Rockstar Games, Take-Two Interactive, and associated logos are trademarks and/or registered trademarks of Take-Two Interactive.

12 11 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

12 13 14 15 16 17/0

Printed in the U.S.A.

First Rockstar Printing, December 2021

Book design by Rockstar North and Gener Guzman

Grand Theft Auto III

Gener Guzman

Chapter 1

Starting at a ghost town north of Liberty City, there is a bank robbery going on at the Liberty City Bank. Claude, Catalina, and a Colombian Cartel member all rob a bank. Shortly after the three rob a bank, Claude meets Catalina and is held at gunpoint. Later, Catalina says “Sorry baby, I’m an ambiguous girl” before she shoots Claude in his body. She leaves him assuming he is dead and says “You’re just a small time”.

Later, the police cars and the enforcer come to pick up Claude, who is almost dead. The police officers plan to take Claude to a prison hospital in Portland Island. When Claude gets arrested by the enforcer, he meets 8-Ball and some other prisoners inside. Later, the police and the enforcer leave the scene and proceed. They are taken to the police station in Staunton Island first to collect data from the police headquarters. Then, they leave the headquarters and attempt to drive to the prison hospital. On the way, the news is reporting what happens there.

The news says, "Liberty City is in shock today as the police and emergency services deal with the aftermath of a devastating attack on a police convoy this morning. As yet, no details have been released about the prisoners being transferred in the convoy, and no group has claimed responsibility. A convoy left police headquarters early this morning, for a routine transfer of felons, to the Liberty Penitentiary. The attack took place on the Callahan Bridge, leaving few witnesses, and the bridge itself, severely damaged. Some of the convicts are thought to have perished in the explosion that followed the initial attack. Revelations as to the professionalism of the attack struck police hours afterward when identification of the missing felons were further hampered by an attack by computer hackers on police headquarter databases. With the Porter Tunnel project falling behind schedule, this disaster leaves Portland isolated from the rest of the city." while the convey is making their way to the Callahan Bridge.

Just before the convey exits the bridge, a patriot blocks the right lane where the convey is driving. This gives a chance for the Columbian Cartel to bail out the prisoners inside the enforcer by arresting the police officers inside. The gang members have a more deadly weapon than the police, so the officers are forced to give up. The prisoners, including 8-Ball and Claude, manage to escape the enforcer and handcuffs and watch the bridge explode.

After the bridge explodes, 8-Ball and Claude survive as well as the nearby kuruma. Everything else gets destroyed including the gang members and the officers. "I know a place on the edge of the Red Light District where we can lay low, but my hands are all messed up so you better drive, brother." says 8-Ball. Claude drives to the safehouse in Portland Island. He watches the police from Portland Island arrive at the bridge to investigate the explosion and try repairing the bridge. He continues to drive through Chinatown and into the Red Light District. Once the kuruma arrives at the safehouse, 8-Ball says "This is the place right here, let's get off the street and find a change of clothes!" Then, 8-Ball and Claude change clothes to their default outfits and head back to the car. "I know a guy, he's connected, his name's Luigi. Me an' him go back so I could probably get you some work. C'mon let's head over there." says 8-Ball. Claude drives around the corner in Red Light District and heads to Luigi's Sex Club 7 bar. "This is Luigi's club. Let's go round the back and use the service door." says 8-Ball.

Claude and 8-Ball head to the service door located in the back of the bar. "Wait here man while I go in and talk to Luigi." says 8-Ball before he gets inside. Later, Luigi and Mickey come out of the door, and Luigi says, "8-Ball's got some business up stairs. Maybe you can do me a favor. One of my girls needs a ride so grab a car and pick up Misty from the clinic. Then bring her back here. Remember no one messes with my girls! So keep your hands on the wheel! If you don't mess this up, maybe there be more work for you. Now get outta here!" Claude gets in his car and heads to the hospital to pick up Misty. When Claude picks up, Misty introduces "Hi, I'm Misty." Claude drives back to Luigi's club to drop off Misty. After he drops off, he earns $1500 and goes to the gas station to buy some food and gas. He goes to the crusher and tests it by crushing the parked Pony van nearby. Then, he checks the price of 8-Ball's bomb garage before going to the car dealership to explore. After he goes to the car dealership, he goes to Momma's Restaurante in Saint Mark's with music played at the front. He goes to Marco's Bistro to eat dinner and Supa Save grocery store just down south to shop. Last, Claude heads back home.

On the next day, Claude wakes up and gets ready for work. He takes his car and heads back to Luigi's club for more work. Once he arrives at work, he meets Mickey Hamfists, a friend of Luigi. Mickey says "Luigi said to, to give you this so... here, here take it." before he gives the note to Claude. The note says to take out a drug dealer at Portland Harbor. Luigi comes and says, "There's a new high on the street goes by the name of SPANK. Some wiseguy's been introducing this trash to my girls down Portland Harbor. Go and introduce a bat to his face! Then take his car, respray it. I want compensation for this insult!" Claude picks up a baseball bat just across the street and drives to Portland View to kill the drug dealer with the baseball bat. He takes the van to the Pay n Spray for free at the Red Light District before he drives to Luigi's lock up at Portland View. He takes a break at the hospital and the police station to explore before working.

Claude goes back to Luigi's for more work. Luigi says, "Hey I've gotta talk to you... All right Mick I'll talk to yah later." to Hamfists. Luigi tells Claude, "How yah doing kid? The Don's son, Joey Leone, he wants some action from his regular girl Misty. Go pick her up at Hepburn Heights... but watch yourself that's Diablo turf. Then run her over to his garage in Trenton and make it quick, Joey ain't the kind you keep waiting, remember, this is your foot in the door... so keep your eyes on the road and off Misty!" Claude drives to the apartment in Hepburn Heights to pick up Misty. Upon arrival, Misty says, "You working regular for Luigi now huh? It's about time he got a driver we can trust!" Claude drives Misty to Joey's garage in Portland View. Once the two arrives, Misty says, "Joey... Am I goin' to play with your big end again?" Then Joey says "I'll be with you in a minute spark plug. Hey, I'm Joey. Luigi said you were reliable so come back later, there might be some work for you. Alright?". After leaving the garage, Claude gets hungry, so he eats his dinner at the Chinatown Hall before he heads back to the safehouse to sleep.

After the second day passes, Claude goes back to Luigi's again. Luigi tells Claude, "Some Diablo scumbag has been pimping his skuzzy bitches in my backyard. Go and take care of things for me. If you need a piece go around the back of AmmuNation opposite the subway." Claude heads to Ammu-Nation to buy a pistol and hunts a Diablo Stallion. He rams the Stallion which bails out a Diablo driver and the pimp. The driver and the pimp attempt to kill Claude, but Claude kills them with a pistol fast. Then, he goes to the hospital to recover his health.

Then, Claude heads to Joey's garage for more work and listens. Misty says, "Hey, I'm bored when you gonna drill me?". Joey replies "In a moment sweet heart, I got a little business to take care of." Joey gives a mission by saying "I got a little job for you pal. The Forelli brothers have owed me money for too long and they need to be taught some respect. Lips Forelli is stuffing his fat face in St Marks Bistro, so steal his car and take it to 8-Ball's bomb shop up in Harwood. You know 8-Ball right? Once he's fitted it with a bomb, go park the car where you found it. Then sit back and watch the whole show. But hurry up, he won't be eating forever."

Claude heads to Marco's Bistro and steals Forelli's car. He takes the car to the 8-Ball bomb garage and arms it, so when Forelli gets in, he dies. He takes the car back to the same position where Forelli originally parked, so Forelli will not know it is a trap. Forelli later tries to go back home and does not know it is a trap. He starts his engine, and his fate is sealed. The car explodes which kills Forelli, and Joey is so happy to give Claude money for his hard work.

Claude heads back to Luigi's club for one last time. Luigi says "The Policeman's Ball is being held at the old school hall near the Callahan Bridge and they'll be looking for some 'old school' action. Now I got girls all over town walking the streets. Get'em to the ball they'll make a bundle. Get as many of them as you can before the cops drink away their green." Claude hurries up to pick up the three prostitutes across the island. He picks up the first one in Chinatown and the other two in Saint Mark's. He drops them off at the school. He picks as many prostitutes as possible for the night. He drops off the prostitutes to school again. After he drops off, he clocks out and heads back home to sleep while the cops are still on their way to school.

In the morning, Claude exits the building and goes to his car. He drives to Joey's garage in Portland View. Once he arrives at the garage, Joey says, "Chunky Lee Chong is pushing spank for some new gang from Colombia... or Colorado... or something.... I'm not really sure. Who needs details anyway. He's got a noodle stand down in ChinaTown. That rat has sold his last stir fry. I want you to take him out! If you need a piece go around back of AmmuNation opposite the subway. Sort yourself with a nine, you know where it is, right? Well remember, just watch your back in ChinaTown, it's Triad territory." Claude goes to Ammu-Nation in the Red Light District near Saint Mark's and buys a pistol. He drives to Chinatown and goes to the fish market in Chinatown Hall. Lee Chong attempts to flee in his car, but Claude goes after him. Once Claude has stopped his car in front, he shoots at the car and kills Lee Chong by shooting at him.

Claude comes back to Joey's garage where Joey says, "Alright, we're gonna hit the pay role van. It leaves the edge of ChinaTown everyday. Bullets won't even dent the van's armor, so get a car and ram it off the road. Now hit it hard and the punk ass security guards should bail. Then take it to the warehouse at the docks and my guys are gonna take over from there. Now it won't be doin' it's rounds all day, so don't hang around." The Securicar moves around Chinatown, and Claude steals a bus from the bus station. Claude takes the bus to the Securicar in Chinatown where he crashes into it multiple times while getting two stars. The Securicar also tries to flee from the coach. Once the Securicar is damaged enough, all the security guards bail out which allows Claude to take the van. Claude takes the van to the garage in Portland Harbor while getting chased by the police. The van's weight can eliminate barriers from the police as it can push the ramming police cars before it reaches the final destination in the garage.

After Claude takes the van to the security garage, he goes back to Joey's garage.

Joey says, "Yeah, I know Toni, I've tuned her real sweet. She purrs, you know what I mean?" to Toni.

Joey says to Claude, "Oh! Here's the guy I was telling you about! Alright Listen. This guy ain't Italian and he's no mechanic but he can get things fixed. This is Pops Capo, Toni Cipriani."

Toni says, "Yeah, I'm Toni Cipriani".

Joey says, "Take him to Momma's restaurant at St Marks, alright. Now listen to me, I'm planning a job that needs a good driver so drop by sometime later Ok?"

Claude takes Toni Cipriani to Mr. Wong's Laundrette in Chinatown to collect unpaid protection money. On the way, Toni says "OK, Kid. Drive me to the laundry in Chinatown first, I got a bit of business to take care of. Those washer women aint been payin' their protection money. And watch the car, Joey just fixed this junk heap. So no fancy crap, OK?". Upon arrival, he says, "Wait here! Keep the engine running. This ain't a social call.". He enters the laundrette and exits as soon as the two triad members begin shooting at him. He says, "It's a Triad ambush! Get us out of here kid!" Claude takes Toni back to his house where Toni says, "The Triads think they can mess with me, the triads, with ME! Drop by later and we'll give them something to launder, their own blood stained clothes!" Claude then heads back home.

After Claude wakes up, he goes to Joey's garage. Upon arrival, Joey says, "Beautiful! Just beautiful. Alright, Just the guy I need to talk to! Alright, there's a car stuffed with a stiff at the cafe near Callahan Point. One of the Forellis thought he was a wise guy, so he got what he had coming to him. Take the corpse to the crusher in Harwood, alright?" Claude drives to the cafe in Callahan Point where he steals the Mavana. Once the Mavana is stolen, Claude escapes to the crusher being chased by the Forelli brothers.

Claude returns to Joey's garage after crushing. Upon arrival, Joey Leone says, "What a ride she's gonna be, huh? Alright, listen. Get some wheels to the safehouse at St. Marks and pick up a few friends of mine. They're hittin' a bank and they need a driver. I gave my word that you were the man, so don't screw this up. Get them to the bank before five o'clock, not a minute after." Claude drives to a garage in Saint Mark's where the three Mafia members are waiting. Leone says "Get to the bank on the main drag." after the three members are picked up. Claude drives them to the Bank of Liberty located in Chinatown and parked. Before the bank robbery, Leone says "Keep the engine running we'll be in and out in no time." The three passengers then robs the bank. After the robbery, the bank alarms goes off, and the police responds "All units, armed bank raid is in progress at Bank of Liberty, Chinatown." Leone says "Get us out of here!!" Claude drives to the Pay n Spray in the Red Light District to lose the cops. Luckily, the cops did not catch Claude attempting to escape by changing the color of the car. After losing the cops, he drives back to the same garage in Saint Marks in order to get his cut.

Toni says, "Take a seat kid, take a goddamned seat. So the laundry won't pay any protection eh? The Triads think they can mess with me? Let's teach these would be tough guys what it means to be a tough guy." Ma says, "Yeah, teach 'em some respect. No son of mine gets it from some Triads. Your father, god rest his soul, took no crap from no Triads back in Sicily." Toni says "Sorry Ma. Yes Ma. I want you to destroy their laundry vans and mangle any triad gimp that gets in your way. 8-Ball can supply you with what you're gonna need." Claude picks up a grenade near the bomb shop and buys the uzi at Ammu-Nation. He then uses the uzi machine gun to destroy the laundry trucks in Chinatown and Portland View.

Chapter 2

After Claude wakes up, he goes to the restaurant where Toni is. Ma says, "TONI's off making people bleed or trying to. He'll never be as tough as his Pop, but he left you a note on the table." Claude picks up the note that reads, "The laundry has agreed to pay - you did real good kid! Go collect the cash and bring it back here. Watch out for the Triads. They may be shoving a firecracker up your ass, but don't take no crap. Nobody I mean nobody, messes with TONI CIPRIANI!" Claude drives to the Chinatown alley near the laundromat to collect the briefcase. However, it is an ambush, so Claude kills all the Triads surrounding him and escapes back to the restaurant where Toni is. He then goes to the hospital to recover his health from the ambush.

Claude returns to the restaurant after the hospital. Ma says, "I don't know where he is! I swear that boy of mine don't know himself sometimes." Claude picks up the note that reads, "Now his father, he was different. Always on top, in charge, manful...And then Don Salvatore has called a meeting. I need you to collect the limo and his boy, Joey, from the garage. Then get Luigi from his club, come back here and pick me up, then we'll all drive over to the boss's place together. Those Triads, they don't know when to stop. They want a war. They got a war. Now get going." Claude takes the black stretch limo and drives to Joey's garage and picks Joey up. Joey says, "How are you doing?". Claude drives to Luigi's sex club and picks Luigi up. Luigi says, "How are yah doing, kid?" Claude picks up Toni from the restaurant, and Toni says, "No fancy crap." Claude drives the three to Salvatore's mansion while getting chased by the triads. The triads are using blockades across the streets in Saint Marks to prevent the enemies from going into their destination. Claude manages to get to the mansion and start the meeting.

The meeting starts with Toni saying, "You did good back there kid, real good. Come on, let's introduce you to the Don."

Salvatore says, "Heeyyy! Luigi!"

Luigi says, "Oh my girls have been missing you so long Salvatore, you been away too long."

Salvatore says, "You tell them that once this unfortunate business is taken care of, we'll all go down to the club and celebrate, ok? Here's my boy."

Joey says, "How you doin' pop?"

Salvatore says, "You got yourself a good woman yet? Hey, your mother, god bless her soul, would be turning over in her grave to see you without a wife."

Joey says "I know Pop, I'm working on it."

Salvatore says, "TONI! How's your Momma? She's a great woman you know. Strong. Firenze."

Toni says, "She's good...fine."

Salvatore says, "Terrific, Terrific. Now listen you guys, you go inside while I talk to our new friend here. I see nothing but good things for you my boy..."

Claude leaves the mansion and heads back home to go to sleep.

Once Claude wakes up, he drives to the taxi department. He steals a taxi nearby and becomes a taxi driver. He completes 33 fares in Portland Island.

The next day, Claude heads to the police station and steals a police car. He becomes a police officer despite lacking the uniform. He kills 17 criminals in Portland Island.

Claude heads to the fire department in Harwood and becomes a firefighter. He steals a fire truck and manages to extinguish 20 fires in Portland Island.

Claude finds two rampage locations in Chinatown and kills a total of 45 Triad members. He kills 20 of them with a shotgun and the last 25 with the uzi.

After Claude wakes up again, he drives to Ammu-Nation in order to buy his uzi machine gun. After buying a gun, he heads to Salvatore's mansion. Salvatore introduces his wife Maria Latore and starts his meeting with Claude and Maria. Maria tells Claude to drive to the drug dealer located at the Chinatown Portland El Station with the black limo. Once Claude and Maria arrive, Maria talks to the drug dealer and deals. Claude punches the drug dealer and heads to the party located at the warehouse in Atlantic Quays. Maria enters the party, but the party ends up being a police raid. The party members fight against the police and the SWAT, and Maria escapes to the limo. Claude takes Maria back to Salvatore's mansion.

After escaping to the mansion, Claude returns to the restaurant and finds out that the Triads invade Saint Mark's. This causes war between the Leones and the Triads. Claude finds three important triads: One in the warehouse by the train station, another in Chinatown Hall, and the last one in the fish factory in Atlantic Quays. He steals a random Triad Fish Van in Chinatown and drives to the factory in order to get accepted in. He kills the last waves of Triads.

When Claude wakes up and leaves the house the next morning, he goes to the restaurant to meet Toni. Toni tells Claude to destroy the fish factory in Atlantic Quays using an armed garbage truck. Claude takes the truck near the bomb shop with the potential to be armed. He drives to the fish factory and parks between the two tanks before arming. Once the truck is armed, Claude escapes the factory and watches the factory explode before leaving the scene. Once the factory is exploded, the Triads gang begins to weaken as a result of the destruction.

After leaving the scene, Claude heads to Salvatore's mansion. Upon arrival, Salvatore tells Claude that one of the Leone Family members is a rat, selling secrets to the Columbian Cartel who then produces SPANK somewhere in Liberty City. That guy who does this is named Curly Bob, and he is a barman who spends more money than what he earns in Luigi's Sex Club 7. He leaves the club and gets into the taxi while Claude drives to the club. Claude follows the taxi without noticing Bob, so he drives about two cars away from him until both Claude and the taxi arrive at the meeting with Catalina and Miguel of the Cartel. Catalina hands Bob the SPANK with Bob telling them about the Leone Family's problems with the Triads and the Forelli Family. Once Catalina and Miguel leave, Claude kills Bob and explores the Porter Tunnel. The Porter Tunnel is still close but is scheduled to be open and completed tomorrow afternoon.

Claude wakes up the next morning and heads to Salvatore's mansion in order to start a meeting. During the meeting, the goal is to destroy the freighter ship docked at Portland Harbor used by the Columbian Cartel to bring more SPANK to Liberty City because the Columbian Cartel has infinite funds selling SPANK throughout the city. Claude is told to meet 8-Ball at his bomb shop in order to prepare his explosives. He heads to the bomb shop and meets 8-Ball.

Claude should hold at least $100000 since that is the cost of the explosives enough to destroy the ship. Claude is given the sniper rifle by 8-Ball since he can't handle a weapon with his hands. He drives 8-Ball to Portland Harbor where the ship is. He finds a good vantage point at the top of the warehouse nearby. He uses the sniper rifle to kill the Cartel guards blocking the Les Cargo ship while 8-Ball plants the explosives in the ship. The explosives are detonated, and 8-Ball runs away just before the explosion of the ship thus causing the ship to sink.

Claude returns to the mansion for one last time. Salvatore seems proud that the ship is destroyed and wanted to celebrate for this, but there is one last thing for Salvatore. Salvatore claims that the Cheetah, located by Luigi's club, needs to be taken to the crusher and get crushed in Harwood. Claude drives towards the car without noticing that the car is armed with the bomb because of Salvatore's betrayal, so that anyone that starts the engine will be blown to death. Maria rescues Claude just in time informing that, so Claude changes the course and is told to come to the jetty in Callahan Point. He meets Maria and introduces Asuka, a co-leader of the Yakuza. The three headed to Newport in Staunton Island by boat. Maria allows Claude to explore the island, and Asuka provides a new safehouse in Staunton Island that Claude can use.

Claude answers a payphone in Hepburn Heights. El Burro, the leader of the Diablos, introduces himself and says that Claude has already gotten a reputation in Liberty City. El Burro informs Claude of a street race about to take place in Chinatown, near the Callahan Bridge. El Burro wants Claude to prove his worth. Claude enters and wins the race after going through all eighteen checkpoints by going as fast as the car can and also by stealing a fast car.

Luckily, Claude answered the payphone early enough as the race went to Saint Marks two times. This is because the Leone Family mafia could become enemies at Claude since the don, Salvatore Leone betrayed Claude. As a result, the Leone Family could begin shooting at Claude with a shotgun. In 2001, the shotgun was powerful enough to explode a car in two or three shots. That means racing through Saint Marks later would be dangerous.

Claude answers a payphone in Hepburn Heights and El Burro tells Claude that a rival gang (Forellis) are threatening to remove a starring member of an adult movie unless they get a cut. El Burro instructs Claude to pick up a bomb in Harwood and then hijack a Mr. Whoopee ice cream van and blow them up at their Atlantic Quays hideout.

After waking up, Claude answers a payphone in Hepburn Heights. El Burro tells Claude that the Triads had stolen a car of Burro's with some of his memorabilia. They then wrecked and burned the car, so El Burro instructed Claude to avenge his Diablo Stallion by killing 25 Triads with a flamethrower. Claude then heads for Chinatown, where El Burro has placed a flamethrower. Claude sets fire to twenty-five Triads and completes the task.

After killing 25 triads in two hours, Claude then takes a lunch break at home and then returns to Hepburn Heights for the afternoon shift of the day for his jobs.

Claude goes to the payphone in Hepburn Heights, which is ringing. El Burro instructs Claude to follow a SPANKED-up thief who has stolen the latest copy of Donkey Does Dallas and collect the copies as they fly out of the back of a van. After collecting all the magazines, Claude kills the thief and then returns the magazines to XXXMags in the Red Light District.

After all of the missions are done, Claude then drives home shortly and waits for bed time. He hangs outside of his home before going to sleep once the night begins.

Chapter 3

Claude wakes up the next day and gets ready for his job. His new job start is located in a dog food factory in Trenton, Portland Island. There is a phone ringing to answer for. However, something interesting is important first, so Claude will answer the phone after lunch. He then finds a side mission to work around Portland Island and starts to work there.

After the first break, Claude answers the payphone in Trenton and finds a man named Marty Chonks on the line. He tells Claude that he needs some help. He tells Claude that his bank manager has been lying to him and taking an extra cut of Marty's profits, and wants Claude to take a Perennial from the factory and pick him up. Then he wants him to bring the bank manager back to the factory to "talk" with him. This is the second task of the day.

Claude goes to see the bank manager and picks him up, just as he was ordered. He then drops him off at Marty's, where the two have a little "chat". After the banker is killed, Marty wants Claude to go and remove evidence. Claude drives up to Harwood and goes to the Harwood Autocrusher and Junkyard, where the car is destroyed. After crushing the car, Claude drives and rushes to his safehouse. He parks his car in the garage and goes to sleep after all.

Claude wakes up the next day and gets in his car. He then goes to the police station since he has three more criminals on the island. This is where he is spending the morning. He gets in the police car and pretends to work as a police officer. He then goes on three small missions and then kills all three remaining criminals in the morning. After killing all three criminals, he goes to Trenton and takes a break near the dog food factory. After taking a break, he hears the phone ringing nearby. Claude answers the nearby phone.

Marty had hired two thieves to break into his apartment so that he could claim the insurance. However, they are now demanding a bigger cut. Marty tells Claude to pick them up with a Sentinel from the Red Light District and bring them to the Bitch'n' Dog Food Factory, where he plans to kill them. The call is then over.

Claude drives to Chinatown, picks them up and takes them back to the factory. Marty kills the two of them, and then turns them into dog food. Marty tells Claude to take the car to the Pay 'n' Spray in the Red Light District to get rid of any evidence and then take the car back to the factory. Once the job is over, Claude is done with work for the day.

Once the next morning begins, Claude gets ready for the next job and drives to the taxi depot. He then waits for the taxi and starts driving one. He accepts passengers, so he decides to pick up one nearby and go to the destination of the passenger. He does the taxi job for several hours until he arrives at Trenton dog food factory for the next job.

Marty Chonks continues in his money problems, and tells Claude that his wife has an insurance policy that he wants to claim. This would also stop his wife from spending vast amounts of money that he doesn't have. The call is over.

Claude goes inside the factory premises to get an Esperanto and drives over to Classic Nails in the Red Light District, where he picks up Mrs. Chonks. He drives her back to the Bitch'n' Dog Food Factory, where she is killed by Marty and turned into dog food. Marty tells Claude to dump the car into the waters near Portland Beach and Saint Mark's in order to get rid of any evidence, which Claude does. The waters are dirty. Afterwards, Claude takes a lunch break near the dog food factory in Trenton before answering the phone.

Marty Chonks continues with his money problems, but now realizes that his wife was having an affair with someone he owes money to. His name is Carl, and he is losing patience with Marty, who is slow to pay back the money he owes. Marty tells Claude to pick him up from Chinatown and bring him back to the Bitchin' Dog Food Factory, where he plans to kill him and turn him into dog food. The call is over, and the job begins.

Claude goes inside the factory premises to get in a Stallion. Claude then picks up Carl and brings him back. Marty waits for them outside of the factory, and attempts to buy time. He invites Carl into the factory, but Carl declines and kills Marty.

The job is over, so Claude follows Carl and tortures him close enough to death but not actually kills. Once bedtime is coming, Claude drives his car back home in the Red Light District and settles down. Once the night begins, he goes to bed and sleeps.

Claude wakes up the next day and decides to take a break from the main missions. Instead, he is planning to train himself by using his weapons against his potential enemies to make him seem strong and do something big at the end. Once the morning begins, he gets in his cars and goes to a random place in Saint Marks. From there, he starts a rampage and kills the Leone Family members everywhere. He even gets in the van and uses the RC cars to drive the RC into the Leone Family's car, the sentinel to explore and kill them.

After spending yesterday during the Leone Family massacre rampage, Claude gets ready to return to the main work and crosses the river for the first time. He also leaves Portland Island for the first time and goes into Staunton Island to start his job. He becomes so excited to work in places outside of Portland Island, a now boring island.

After being betrayed by Salvatore Leone, Claude now wants revenge and plans to work for the Yakuza. However, Yakuza leader Asuka Kasen wants Claude to prove his loyalty to the Yakuza and sever his ties with the Leone Family by assassinating Salvatore as he leaves Luigi Goterelli's club later that day. Claude leaves the site.

Claude travels to Luigi's club on Portland Island. He waits nearby the club until Salvatore leaves, whereby he assassinates Salvatore, severing his ties to the Leones. After that, he takes a break at the rooftop before starting the afternoon job.

Claude drops by Asuka Kasen's condo, and she introduces him to her brother Kenji. Asuka informs Claude that the FBI establishes a surveillance operation around the city. Claude is required to track down and eliminate three groups of surveillance crews waiting at different spots within 6 hours and 30 minutes in this order. They include:

Two men on a small island in the Belleville Park lake.

Two men in a black Rumpo van in Bedford Point.

Six men armed with M16s on the balconies of a skyscraper opposite Kenji's Casino in Torrington. The M16s are deadly carbine rifles.

After completing the afternoon job, Claude finds a new place to settle down. He gets his map out and finds a second home that could be better than the first. He drives past Belleville Park and goes to another home located between the park and Fort Staunton. He settles down and parks his car in the garage. The garage at the new home is much bigger and can fit at least two vehicles unlike the Portland Island home where it stores only one vehicle. Finally, Claude gets in his new apartment and explores the room. He goes to bed and sleeps.

After Claude wakes up the next day, he gets ready for the first time in his new home and then goes down the elevator, the car, and to work.

Claude drops by Asuka's condo and finds out that she and Maria have taken a little holiday together and Claude finds a letter left by Asuka saying that a reporter has been into Yakuza's business for too long and Asuka has decided to take a little holiday elsewhere in the city while the reporter is found just at the sea nearby. Claude steals a police boat and starts chasing the target as well as attacking him with the Predator's machine guns. After a chase around the quiet waters of the city, he manages to blow up the boat, killing the reporter within.

For the afternoon mission, Asuka wants Claude to meet a cop she knows and deliver his payment to him. Claude has to answer a series of phone booths around Staunton Island until Claude is instructed to go to the toilet block in Belleville Park. There Claude meets Ray Machowski. Machowski wants Claude to do some favors for him.

After waking up, Claude gets ready for work and drives there. From there, he drops by Asuka's place, only to find out that she and Maria have gone shopping. Claude reads a note left by Asuka, which states that the Yakuza's police informant has said to them that one of their drivers is an undercover cop. She then tasks Claude to kill him.

He then heads to Kenji's Casino in Torrington. Once there, the driver is seen hopping onto his car. Claude then follows the car and tries to damage it enough to make him pull out of his car, all while having a high wanted level. Once he has bailed, Claude quickly kills him. After killing the driver, he avoids the cops and fades away from the police.

After the morning shift is done, Claude takes a break and stays in the place where the cops lost the suspect. He continues to relax for the rest of the break.

After lunch break, Claude has a new job start. He gets ready for a new set of jobs and then goes to the casino to start the job. From there, Kenji informs Claude that a high-ranking member of the Yakuza has been arrested by the Liberty City Police Department and that Claude will be breaking him out. Claude takes a police car to 8-Ball's bomb shop, getting the car rigged with a time bomb. Claude drives to the police headquarters and parks the car next to the cells, before detonating the bomb. Claude and Kanbu then steal a police vehicle to escape the police station before changing cars to lose the pursuing police. After losing the police, Claude takes Kanbu to the Hyaku Dojo. Last, Claude goes back home and sleeps.

Right after Claude starts his day, he begins to drive his car and go to the casino. Once he arrives at the casino, he gets out of the car and takes a long walk towards the front door.

Claude drops by Kenji's Casino looking for more work. Apparently, Kenji owes a debt to a man who once did a favor for him, and who has a great likeness for sports cars. Kenji then tasks Claude to collect three cars in Staunton and take them to a garage near the multistory car park and the Pay 'n' Spray in Newport. In addition, the cars must be delivered in perfect or near-perfect condition, or the player will be directed to the nearest Pay 'n' Spray to repair the car.

Claude goes to each car and steals them. He steals all three cars and brings them to a garage for a morning shift. Afterwards, he takes a break near the casino front door.

After break, Kenji demands Claude to disrupt a deal between the Colombian Cartel with the Yardies and frame the Yardies for the deaths of some Cartel members. Claude is ordered to steal a Yardie Lobo and pick up a Yakuza associate (presumably Kanbu), then drive to the meeting spot, and kill the Colombians as well as destroy their gang cars parked there. Claude then grabs a briefcase with unknown contents inside and takes it back to the casino. After the second job is complete, Claude is free to go home. He goes back home and sleeps for the night.

During the next morning, Claude drops by the casino looking for more work from Kenji. Kenji tasks Claude to go and collect protection money ready for them in different locations.

Claude goes to the first location and collects the briefcase with no sweat. After that, he makes his way to the second location. He collects the briefcase, and kills the Diablo gang member waiting nearby, since he is shooting at him as hostile.

He then goes to the third location; a supermarket in Belleville Park. The person inside says that he couldn't pay the money since some gang ransacked the place and took everything. Because of this, Claude drives to the gang's location, Hepburn Heights in Portland Island. Claude then finds out it is the Diablos who ransacked the place. He kills every Diablo in sight, and collects the briefcase containing the money. He makes his way back to the casino.

After the job is done for the day, Claude takes a long break and decides to cross the bridge. He crosses the bridge and drives to Bolt Burgers near the bridge in Portland Island. After eating, he goes back to Staunton Island, goes home, and sleeps for the night.

Claude wakes up the next day and gets ready to go to work. He goes down the elevator and gets to the garage. From there, he gets in his car and drives to the casino to start work.

Kenji is furious in finding out that, even after the Yardies are framed for the murder of numerous Colombians, they are still able to convince the Cartel to ally with them. Kenji dispatches Claude to kill as many Yardie SPANK pushers as he can find.

After the morning job, Claude takes a lunch break in Belleville Park. He enjoys his break walking in the park. He goes to the bathroom and then starts his afternoon job over there.

Ray is angry at Leon McAffrey (his former partner) for ratting on him about his ties with the Yakuza. He instructs Claude to head to Newport and torch McAffrey's safehouse to lure him outside and kill him. Claude is given 12 grenades to do the job. Claude heads to McAffrey's safehouse and lobs a grenade into an open window. The safehouse is torched and McAffrey attempts to escape in a Sentinel from the garage. Claude manages to defeat McAffrey in time with LCPD officers attacking him with AK-47s, the rifle gun that the FBI has.

After defeating McAffrey and the police officers, Claude is done for the day and decides to return home for the night. He drives home and enters the apartment. Last, he goes to sleep.

Claude wakes up the next day and gets ready for work. He goes to see Ray in the toilet block in Belleville Park. Ray informs him of an old friend, Phil Cassidy, being in trouble with the Colombian Cartel and needs someone to back him up. Claude drives to Phil's Base in Rockford. Phil says the Colombians will arrive any minute and Claude then picks up everything he needs for surviving the shoot-out. The Colombians after a while arrive in Cartel Cruisers and the gunfight begins. Phil and Claude manage to clear out the wave of Colombians and Phil tells Claude that he can come back any time to get upgraded military weapons.

Claude takes a break. After break, Ray informs Claude about knowing a rich man in the city, namely Donald Love, and somebody has pictures of him at a "morgue party", eating corpses. Ray orders Claude to get the evidence and torch the car that the pictures are in.

Claude gets in a vehicle and drives to the evidence which is in a bulletproof, fireproof and explosion proof Bobcat, which is driving around Staunton Island. He then rams the Bobcat from behind and collects six images. Claude then destroys the car he used for collecting the evidence. After removing the evidence, Claude completes his second job and sleeps at night.

After Claude wakes up, he leaves his room and goes down the elevator again. He drives to work and shortly arrives at the park in order to wait for further instructions.

Machowski tells Claude that he thinks his partner is a rat so he wants him eliminated. He instructs Claude to drive a Predator in Callahan Point over to Portland Rock where his partner is usually seen fishing. As Claude arrives, he finds that Machowski's partner is in a boat containing explosive barrels, fishing the "redneck way" by throwing grenades into the water and killing dozens of fish at once. The partner spots Claude and attempts to flee from him.

After being chased for a short period of time around Portland Harbor and dropping all of his explosive barrels in an effort to stop Claude, the partner beaches himself and the boat and begins to run on shore near the Supa Save! supermarket. Claude beaches himself as well and guns him down, completing the mission. He then takes his lunch break.

After break, Claude returns to work. Machowski is angry that Claude did not kill McAffrey successfully in a previous mission. He survived and is being transported in an Ambulance from the Carson General Hospital to the LCPD headquarters. Machowski instructs Claude to kill him, once and for all. As Claude arrives at the hospital, the Ambulance heads out to its destination. Claude rams the Ambulance until Ray's partner, in a fully armored and flame retardant body cast, falls out of the Ambulance. Claude eventually breaks the cast and kills him.

After the night passes, Claude gets ready to go to work and begins locating his new work start place. He drives to a new place where Donald Love lives. He then arrives at his work.

Claude goes to see Donald Love, who thanks him for dealing with a "personal matter". He also informs Claude of knowing an "Old Oriental Gentleman" who is now kidnapped by the Colombian Cartel and he wants Claude to rescue him from a Cartel compound in Aspatia.

Realizing that the only way to enter the compound is by entering with a Cartel Cruiser, Claude goes to Fort Staunton, steals one, drives to the compound and is automatically allowed inside the compound, but is quickly recognized by the Colombians. Claude quickly reacts and takes all the Colombians out before finding the Old Oriental Gentleman in one of several garages (in each of which at least one Cartel member is hiding). Once all the Colombians are dead, he gets in a car with the Oriental Gentleman and takes him back to Donald Love, completing the mission. From there, Claude celebrates by ending the morning and taking a break.

After taking a break, Claude visits Donald Love who, already being involved with real estate in Liberty City, wants to develop more properties. He realizes the cheapest way to buy the land and develop is to start a gang war between the Yakuza and the Colombian Cartel, who are already enemies. Donald tells Claude to get a Cartel Cruiser and kill the co-leader of the Yakuza, Kenji Kasen, without leaving the vehicle. Claude drives to the car park in Newport, runs over Kenji, escapes Newport and leaves the vehicle. After the second job is done, Claude goes to the hospital and heals his health from the damages during the job. After healing, he goes to steal a van with a hidden package there. Last, he stores the van in the garage and sleeps at night.

Claude wakes up the next day and gets ready for work once again. He goes to Donald Love's place looking for more work. A DeadDodo plane is dropping a few packages on the sea and Love wants him to pick them up before anyone else does. After being informed about the plane, Claude gets a car and drives to a boat. He follows the plane, and later on, the plane starts to drop packages. Claude collects all six, and then makes his way back to Love Media Building, all while avoiding the gained attention from the police, to give the packages to Donald.

After the job is done, Claude continues with his stolen FBI black car and takes it to the garage. He replaces the FBI car with his personal car. He takes the personal car to the newly unlocked Shoreside Vale, a mainland northwest of Staunton Island. He parks the car in the new apartment in Shoreside Vale and then steals a van to return to the Staunton Island safehouse.

Chapter 4

Claude wakes up the next day and gets ready for his job. He exits his safehouse and drives to work. Once he arrives, he begins his job on time for his first half of the day.

Claude drops by Donald's penthouse and Donald informs him that the packages he had previously collected were decoys, so he needs to collect the real package, which was on that plane all along. Donald states that the authorities had intercepted the plane, however he has managed to bribe them. Claude then leaves the penthouse and goes to his car.

Claude drives to Donald's hangar at Francis International Airport on Shoreside Vale. However the Liberty City Port Authority officers have all been killed, and six Colombian Cartel gang members are waiting inside. Claude kills them and enters the Dodo, but realizes the package has gone. Noticing a Panlantic van in front of the hangar, he drives to the Panlantic construction site in Fort Staunton on Staunton Island, with more gangs popping up there.

Once at the construction site, he kills more Colombian Cartel gang members and uses the elevator to get to the upper levels. There, he sees Miguel and Catalina, who have Love's package. When Claude challenges them, Miguel hands him the package, which leads to Catalina shooting Miguel before she leaps out of the building and lands in a garbage bin to escape.

A little later, Asuka Kasen and the Yakuza arrive to take over the area from the Cartel. Still thinking that Cartel killed her brother, she begins to torture Miguel. Claude then goes to Love Media to deliver the package. After delivering the package at Donald Love's building, Claude completes his job for the day. That means he has done one big job that takes almost the whole day to finish. Finally, Claude returns to his safehouse and sleeps for the night.

Claude wakes up the next day and gets ready inside his room. He goes down the elevator and enters his garage. From there, he drives the car, exits the safehouse, and goes to work.

Claude goes to Donald's penthouse, looking for more work. Donald wants Claude to protect the Old Oriental Gentleman in a Securicar and make sure he's safely arriving in Pike Creek, Shoreside Vale, for Donald's package needs authentication. Claude later gets out of the building and gets in a car, following the Securicar transporting the oriental gentleman. On the way, members of Colombian Cartel start to give chase in Cartel Cruisers, trying to ram the vehicle. Claude, however, manages to hold off the Cartel members. Eventually, the Old Oriental Gentleman, with the help of Claude, arrives at the destination safely.

After completing the job, Claude is done for the day and drives back home. He arrives early and decides to take a short walk outside of the safehouse. When the night comes, he sleeps.

Claude wakes up the next morning and begins getting ready for work once again. He goes downstairs to the garage and gets in his car. He drives out of the safehouse and into work.

Claude drops by Love Media, looking for more work. Donald tells that SWAT and the police are guarding the Old Oriental Gentleman's location in Pike Creek, Shoreside Vale. Donald wants Claude to get in the van used by the Oriental Gentleman and act as a decoy to the police, in order to let the Oriental Gentleman escape. Claude exits the Love Media building.

Claude gets over to the location, already noticing many Police Cars and Enforcers waiting with officers on foot to pounce as soon as the van starts moving. He then gets inside the van, and gets a six-star wanted level as the waiting LCPD vehicles spring their trap and close in. He drives the van away from the warehouse, making the police chase him, with the Oriental Gentleman then having the opportunity to escape. He drives to the airport and enters the tarmac. From there, he makes an escape while driving around the airport. After losing the cops at the airport for a while at the airport, Claude takes a break before the second job of the day begins.

After break, Claude is ready for his second job. He becomes so excited to enter the second job as he is driving towards the Love Media building to continue his job.

Claude enters the Love Media building's top floor. He notices nobody is there. As he examines the empty penthouse he stumbles upon a mysterious box that Donald Love had supposedly used to store packages he hired Claude to steal previously, which is now empty. Claude leaves and the fates of Donald and the Old Oriental Gentleman are left ambiguous.

After Claude notices that Donald Love disappeared, he takes the other half of the day off. Instead of working like usual, he decides to relax near his safehouse. He takes a walk around the block of his house, going clockwise. He first enters the north side of the park and around the block to the other side before circling back home. Last, Claude goes to bed and sleeps at night.

Chapter 5

Claude wakes up the next day and gets ready for his job. He exits his safehouse and drives to work. Once he arrives, he begins his job on time for his first half of the day.

Claude drops by the toilet block in Belleville Park. Ray tells Claude that he is a "marked man" and needs to escape Liberty City. He wants Claude to take him to the Francis International Airport so he can catch his plane out of the city to Miami or Vice City. If Claude successfully drives Ray to the airport, Ray will reward him some items that are useful.

Claude and Ray have three hours to make their way to the airport. However, the Shoreside Lift Bridge is guarded by CIA agents (who are armed with M16s capable of exploding vehicles and are able to survive up to twice the amount of damage), so Claude finds an alternate route, one being the Porter Tunnel. Claude drives through the Porter Tunnel, and he and Ray eventually reach the airport to allow Ray to catch his flight. Once they reach the airport, Ray gives Claude the keys to a lockup in Newport, and enters the airport. Claude drives back to the lockup and when he arrives, Ray pages Claude asking him to take care of the bulletproof Patriot. Other equipment, including a rocket launcher, a sniper rifle, an M16, and a flamethrower, as well as some money, are also stored in the lockup as a gift from Ray to Claude.

After taking a break in midday, Claude answers the pay phone ringing in Liberty Campus. The caller introduces himself as King Courtney, leader of the Uptown Yardies. He wants a good driver for his gang and wants Claude to enter a race that will prove his worthiness.

Claude meets up with three other opponents at the north side of the Liberty Memorial Coliseum. He picks a car he thinks is the fastest, while his opponents are in a Patriot, Cheetah, and Bobcat. The race eventually starts, and Claude drives to different parts of Staunton Island to collect as many checkpoints as he can until he wins the race. After winning the race, Claude returns home and is done for the day. He goes to bed and sleeps for the night.

Claude wakes up the next day and decides to do something different. To do that, he gets ready for another job. It is a different type of work compared to the main type of work. That means returning to Portland Island near his Portland safehouse at Hepburn Heights and doing a rampage that involves killing multiple diablo gang members and destroying the gang.

Claude begins driving out of the house and going to the Porter Tunnel. From there, he goes to Hepburn Heights and begins a rampage over there. He kills several diablo members for almost the whole day until the time is over. After that, he returns home for the night.

After waking up at the Staunton Island safehouse, Claude gets ready for work. He drives to a phone booth and gets a call from his job boss. He then begins his job for the day.

Two Yardies show up in a Perennial after Claude receives a phone call by King Courtney. They want Claude to drive to Hepburn Heights to whack some Diablos who have been insulting Queen Lizzy. Claude has to stay in the car or else the Yardies will think he bailed out on them and will attack him. Claude has to kill at least ten Diablo gang members, either by doing a drive-by or by running them over. Claude does all of that, which makes the diablos become an enemy gang. After that Claude drives back to the Yardies turf and drops the Yardies off.

After finishing the one job, he is done for the day. He relaxes and has no second job since the first job takes almost the whole day. The first job that takes the whole day often gives breaks during checkpoints before resuming the job. Last, Claude goes to sleep once the night begins.

Claude wakes up the next morning and gets ready for his next job. He drives to the phone booth near the stadium and gets a call from King Courtney, the job boss for now.

King Courtney wants Claude to steal some gang cars so they can do some hits on their enemies. The cars he wants are a Mafia Sentinel, a Yakuza Stinger, and a Diablo Stallion. He wants them in fair quality and doesn't want them wrecked. Claude steals all of the cars. The cars are taken to a garage in an alleyway in Newport to complete the job of the day. Just like the last job, this one also takes the whole day with a break at the middle of the mission. Lastly, Claude returns to his safehouse and relaxes. He then goes to bed and sleeps for the night.

For one week, Claude takes his time doing vehicle missions in Staunton Island. He kills criminals and removes fires as well as doing a rampage in Newport involving the yardies gang.

Claude wakes up and gets ready for his work once again. Like a week ago, he drives to a phone booth near the stadium and gets a phone call from the job boss King Courtney.

King Courtney wants Claude to collect an Esperanto parked in a parking lot in Bedford Point. When Claude gets in the vehicle, he discovers it is a trap laid by Catalina. SPANKed-up suicide bombers will block the entrances to the parking lot with their vans. An endless amount of suicidal bombers attempt to kill Claude. Claude eventually destroys all their vans and the bombers to end the mission. Therefore, he is done for the day. Not only that but also done with all of King Courtney's jobs. As a result, Claude goes to another safehouse in Shoreside Vale to sleep for the night. This is because his next job is in Shoreside Vale, within walking distance.

Chapter 6

Claude wakes up the next day and gets ready for his job. He exits his safehouse and walks to work. Once he arrives, he begins his job on time for his first half of the day.

D-Ice wants Claude to eliminate twenty Purple Nines in a drive-by within two minutes and thirty seconds. D-Ice supplies Claude with an unlimited amount of Uzi ammunition. Claude then locates and kills twenty Purple Nines, avoiding the Red Jacks who also attack Claude.

After completing the first job of the day, Claude takes a break on the site where he completes the mission. After break, he returns to the phone for the afternoon job.

D-Ice wants Claude to destroy three Securicars full of SPANK driven by the Purple Nines. He instructs Claude to enter a TOYZ van and use explosive RC Bandits to destroy the Securicars. Claude does so. After completing this mission, he goes home for the night.

Claude wakes up the next morning and begins getting ready for work. He goes downstairs and exits the apartment. From there, he walks down the hill to the payphone.

D-Ice's Infernus is rigged with a timed explosive. He instructs Claude to drive the car to a garage in Saint Mark's, Portland Island to defuse the bomb. The bomb is sensitive, so too much damage to the car will detonate the bomb. Claude quickly steals a random car and drives to the rigged car in order to hurry up. He drives to a garage in Saint Marks to defuse the bomb. At Saint Marks, the mafia would normally use deadly shotguns to attack, but the mafia does not believe Claude is driving a sports car. After the bomb has been defused, the car is returned in perfect condition to the original parking spot. Claude then returns home nearby and takes a break. After that, he returns to work to continue the afternoon by walking down the hill from home.

D-Ice wants Claude to collect some platinum bullion pieces that a plane had scattered around Pike Creek. After the instruction, Claude hangs up and ends the phone call.

Claude eventually drives to the area, and has six hours to collect platinum pieces, his vehicle becoming heavier the more platinum that is collected. Claude goes to the location and collects thirty pieces. The platinum pieces he picks up are then dropped off at D-Ice's garage just east of the location. After collecting five pieces of bullion in quick succession, one star is added to Claude's wanted level, regardless of currently having one, and another star after the next ten. It is cleared upon entering the lock-up though. Last, all pieces are deposited, and the mission is complete. Claude returns home and prepares for the night. Last, he goes to bed and sleeps.

After waking up the next day, Claude gets ready for his next job. Shortly after getting ready, he takes a long walk down the hill to the phone to talk to D-Ice for the first daily job.

The Purple Nines are nearly wiped out. The last members of the gang want a last fight against the Red Jacks. D-Ice instructs Claude to meet up with his brother who shows Claude the location of the fight. The rule is only bats are allowed. Claude, with D-Ice's brother's help, kills all remaining Purple Nines, leaving the Red Jacks the only members of the Southside Hoods.

After completing the first job of the day, Claude takes a break at home shortly before going to Asuka for the next job. He takes a long drive to Staunton Island for the afternoon.

Asuka, after having caught Miguel, at the construction site, is torturing him in order to get more information about Catalina's plans against Claude. She informs him of Catalina planting three death squads around Liberty City to kill Claude. He's forced to search Shoreside Vale for each of the death squads and lead them to a trap set by Asuka; a waiting group of well-armed Yakuza members. Each gang consists of four Colombian Cartel gang members driving in Sentinel's and they can be found at Pike Creek and Cedar Grove. Once all of them are killed, the mission is complete. Last, Claude goes to the Staunton Island safehouse and sleeps.

A few hours before the next sunrise, Claude gets ready for work. From there, he goes downstairs and gets in the car. He drives to work in order to begin the first job of the day.

Miguel has informed Asuka, who's torturing him, about espresso stands around Liberty City. The stands in question are being used by the Colombian Cartel as fronts to sell SPANK. Claude must destroy every espresso stand in eight hours before the Colombians warn their pushers. After Claude listens to the instructions, he leaves the site and drives off.

Two of the stalls are on Portland Island; one in Saint Mark's opposite Salvatore's Gentlemen's Club; and the other one located at the opposite entrance to the Portland Harbor. Five of the stalls are located on Staunton Island. The Staunton stalls are located at Belleville Park, east of the car-park in Newport, in front of the church in Bedford Point, near a statue in Torrington, and behind the church just west of Love Media building. The final two stands are located in Shoreside Vale. One is to the west of Shoreside Lift Bridge at Francis International Airport and the other one outside the hospital at Pike Creek. After destroying all of the stalls, Claude is done for the day. He takes a break at home and waits until bedtime. Last, he goes to sleep.

Claude wakes up the next day and gets ready to go to work. Even though the construction site is nearby, Claude drives to work to avoid being attacked by the Colombian Cartel.

Claude visits Asuka and Maria Latore at the construction site in Fort Staunton. Asuka informs Claude that a plane containing a number of SPANK drug packages is arriving at Francis International Airport in Shoreside Vale. Asuka advises Claude to travel to the airport by boat to avoid the airport security, so Claude drives over to a jetty in Bedford Point. He picks up a rocket launcher on the jetty and takes a boat to sail over to the southern end of the airport. He kills the Colombian Cartel gang members guarding the exit of the airport. A short time later, the plane containing the drugs lands at the airport. Claude destroys the plane with the rocket launcher, scattering the drugs all over the runway while the plane is burning near some of the drugs.

After the plane is destroyed, Claude retrieves the packages before the police arrive. After escaping from the police, Claude leaves the airport and travels back to the construction site with the drugs. From there, he takes a break at the site before he returns for the next job.

Claude enters the construction site's elevator and, after reaching the top floor, finds Miguel and Asuka Kasen dead and Maria Latore missing, having been taken hostage. Claude takes a ransom letter from Catalina from a pole, which Miguel is impaled on, and reads it, walking back to the elevator quickly. After completing a short second job, he goes back home for the night. He waits for his bed time while preparing for what to do. Last, he sleeps.

For the next nine days, Claude takes a break from his main job and plans on doing rampages against the Colombian cartel and doing vehicle missions in Shoreside Vale. Claude spends the first few days doing rampages in Fort Staunton and Cedar Grove. Then, he spends more days doing all four vehicle missions. He is a taxi driver, police officer, a firefighter, and a paramedic. After completing the paramedic, he is ready for the next main job after nine days.

After spending nine days doing other missions like side missions, Claude gets ready from his Shoreside Vale home. From there, he takes a short drive to the Cedar Grove mansion.

Catalina recently kidnapped Maria Latore. She now wants Claude to bring $500,000 to the Cartel mansion in Cedar Grove in exchange for not having Maria killed. Claude arrives at the mansion's gate and hands over the money to a Cartel member, having all his weapons taken away before being brought in to meet Catalina. Catalina chastises Claude for trusting her and walks off with the money, but not before ordering her men to kill Claude. That means that Catalina is not the one to be trusted, so Claude is now about to be killed shortly.

Claude is put under gunpoint by a Cartel member, but quickly escapes by punching him and taking the pistol he dropped. Claude swiftly takes down the remaining Cartel members before leaving the mansion, only to find a helicopter hovering above him which holds both Catalina and Maria. Claude follows the helicopter all the way to the base of Cochrane Dam, killing groups of heavily-armed Cartel men that get in his way while gaining weapons that the men already had before death. He keeps killing and getting more ammo while following.

With Claude closing in to the helicopter, Catalina drops off Maria and a couple of her guards at the loading bay before re-entering her helicopter. Catalina's chopper fires missiles at the ground while Claude gets to Maria and kills the remaining Cartel men. Claude picks up a nearby rocket launcher to shoot down Catalina's chopper. After successfully hitting down the helicopter, it crashes against the dam, killing Catalina. Afterwards, Claude and Maria walk together as they cross over to the other side of the dam. Maria continues to talk right before a mysterious gunshot, after which, she remains silent and is no longer heard. The news also reports the crime scene with witness Clive Denver. After this job is complete, Claude retires from his main job and plans on doing side jobs before he can begin taking over Liberty City.

Chapter 7

After Claude completes all of his main missions, he still have plans on completing all of the set of missions known as the side missions. Some side missions have been completed due to a potential warning about a certain gang becoming hostile once Claude enters their neighborhood for the reason to kick the enemies out. When a gang becomes hostile, they could upgrade sets of weapons because some of the weapons like guns only take a few seconds to kill or explode.

Once the plan for the day is done, Claude makes a huge plan for the next few days and all the time after that. To begin with, he starts the day in the Wichita Gardens Safehouse located in Shoreside Vale. The safehouse can hold up to three vehicles, but only two garages can open. That reduces the capacity of the garage from three to two for this time. Claude has three safehouses, in which he owns one per region. There are also a total of five garage spots, two of them each in the western two regions. The Red Light District safehouse has only one garage. Also, all regions of the city have at least one place to obtain guns and ammo. Ammu-Nation covers the eastern two islands while the guns in Shoreside Vale are obtained at a garage in Pike Creek. These are plans on settling down and doing what is needed right after the main set of missions that makes a story.

Claude takes a break and plans on which vehicles can be stored. Three garages need to be open at some point, which means the other two garages allow two important vehicle storage.

This gives Claude an idea, which is importing and exporting vehicles in at least two good places such as a garage or something. This is for later, so basically Claude chooses his two best vehicles to store in both Staunton Island and Shoreside Vale each. One of them is the invincible Patriot, which allows Claude to drive through the most hostile neighborhoods and districts in the city. Another important vehicle is the Blista minivan. The main car has been the Kuruma.

After choosing the two vehicles, Claude gradually drives to the gun pickup sites and gets all of the ammo needed using the rewards from the last main mission. The strongest weapons are located in the Pike Creek garage. Another gun pickup site is at Phil's Army Surplus, a small base that contains the military weapons as well as the two vehicles, including the strong Rhino tank. The rest of the gun pickup sites are located at the two Ammu-Nations. Claude shops and buys the medium weapons in the Staunton Island Ammu-Nation and finally the Portland Island store.

Claude ends the day at Portland Island, so he drives the Kuruma all the way back to Red Light District to end the day and go back to where the story began. Last, he goes to sleep to rest.

Claude wakes up the next day and gets ready to begin working again. The plan for the next few days is not only celebrating but also completing minor side missions. This includes the off-road missions, hidden packages, stunts, rampages, etc. The main off-road mission for today must be at Portland View and Portland Beach, where the off-road site mission is. Claude already knows the location to start with, so he thinks about it. The rest of the day is just freedom of adventure.

Once the plan is done, Claude exits the safehouse and drives to the Supa Save parking lot in Portland View. Normally, the shortest route would be going through a little bit of Saint Mark's, which contains the deadly Leone Family mafia equipped with shotguns capable of killing people in four to seven shots or exploding most vehicles in a few shots, but Claude takes a safe route.

Eventually, Claude arrives at the parking lot and meets the special Patriot. He enters the Patriot and begins the offroad mission called "Patriot Playground". This is the only offroad job in Portland Island, but Claude navigates the mission with difficulty for a number of reasons. One of them is inexperience may cause the mission to be failed at least one or multiple times. Another reason is being close to Saint Mark's and the mafia headquarters. Despite the Leone Family gang owning the headquarters to the east, it is actually the safest place owned by the Mafia because it is not supervised by the gang. Instead, it is empty with just the black mafia Sentinel cars. Claude continues to navigate the offroad mission nicely and safely until the mission has been passed.

Claude returns to the parking lot and takes a break. From there, he makes plans working for the rest of the day such as collecting hidden packages and doing other side missions too.

In the afternoon, Claude explores the whole Portland Island, except for the districts with hostile gangs. Multiple packages and unique stunt jumps may be performed. To do stunt jumps, Claude needs to drive a fast sports car as fast as possible until the ramp is reached. This is never possible for today in Portland Island. Hidden packages are easy to collect for today though. The hidden packages are often found in places Claude has never been to before such as an abandoned location or a private property that needs to be invaded. Alleyways are also mostly not explored at the start of the adventure, so Claude often checks them out and collects more packages. This can continue until he arrives at the Portland Docks garage and sees a checklist of wanted vehicles.

For the rest of the day, Claude finds whatever vehicle is found nearby and often drops off at the docks. Then, he continues on and transitions to the police station and hospital. This is one of the last vehicles to be taken to the dock garage for today. These are the ambulance and police car. These are examples of emergency vehicles to be taken to a spot, so the crane collects them.

After making progress on the imports and exports list, Claude commutes to the Staunton Island safehouse. The commute involves taking the Callahan Bridge and turning right on a road just east of Belleville Park. Last, Claude arrives at the safehouse, parks, and enters the elevator.

The next day is planned to be similar to yesterday but on Staunton Island. Likewise, the plan is to complete at least one offroad mission and spend the afternoon collecting more hidden packages as well as more vehicles for imports and exports. Other side missions are often not completed or are planned to be completed when they are located in a safe district. The afternoon may be spent on making more progress on hidden packages and imports/exports than other side missions to do.

Once the plan is done, Claude exits the safehouse and takes a different way instead. That means he walks towards Belleville Park and meets the Landstalker, another offroad SUV. This is the only offroad mission in Staunton Island, but there are really two missions like this that can be completed today in Staunton Island. The other mission is actually in a parking lot near the park.

Eventually, Claude arrives at the park and enters the Landstalker located on the north side of the park near the pond. Once the SUV has been entered, Claude begins the mission and makes his way south from the starting point. There are about a dozen checkpoints, and they can be done in all types of order. Claude prefers the best order, allowing him to drive through the pond to get to the nearest checkpoint one by one. He makes some zig zags across the park and continues to drive through until he passes the side mission. However during the process, he is inexperienced with driving the Landstalker since the SUV is at risk of flipping over multiple times. He knows that when a vehicle is flipped over, some leak can cause explosions. Luckily, nothing explodes.

Claude returns to the parking lot and takes a break. From there, he makes plans working for the rest of the day such as collecting hidden packages and doing other side missions too.

In the afternoon, Claude explores the whole Staunton Island, and their districts are much safer than the ones in Portland Island. As a result, Claude can just collect more hidden packages by simply exploring the island. Even when the gangs are hostile, they are not capable of killing or exploding quickly, and they may easily be defended. There are more stunt jumps, rampages, and other side missions to be completed. There is just one more major side mission to do for the rest of the day. Claude finds it in a multistory parking lot and enters a Stallion old car.

Unlike the other two missions, this one is not offroad. Instead, it involves driving the car around the parking lot through multiple checkpoints. The mission has two parts, one going out of the parking lot safely and the last one going back to the top. However at the end of the mission, Claude reaches the last checkpoint and performs a unique stunt jump at the same time down.

For the rest of the day, Claude finds whatever vehicle is found nearby and often drops off at the garage in Pike Creek, Shoreside Vale. This is another location of the imports and exports goal to complete. There is no import and export location in Staunton Island as it seems safe.

After making progress on the imports and exports list, Claude commutes back to Wichita Heights nearby and goes to the third safehouse. He goes upstairs in the apartment and rests.

The next day is planned to be similar to the last two days. Likewise, the plan is to complete the offroad mission and spend the afternoon collecting more hidden packages as well as obtaining more vehicles for imports and exports. Like Staunton Island, Shoreside Vale also contains safer locations compared to Portland Island. Cedar Grove is the district of the region to take caution as the Columbian Cartel contains AK-47s. Even still, they are still less deadly than the mafia.

Once the plan is done, Claude exits the safehouse and drives shortly to the park with the picnic. Like Portland Island, he enters the Patriot and starts the offroad mission. The mission is similar to the one in Portland Island but more difficult at the start. It is officially called Grippped!

Eventually, Claude starts driving the Patriot and navigates the rough terrain. That means he is close to flipping and failing the side mission. Luckily, the hardest part of the mission passes to get to the easier parts. From there, experience from the Portland side mission gives Claude the ability to easily navigate through the rest of the offroad mission. Like in Portland Island, there is also a threat to the mission. It is located at or near Cedar Grove, in which the Columbian Cartel may shoot with the AK-47s to damage the off-road vehicle. The vehicle has been damaged just slightly but not too significant to explode. Eventually, Claude passes the last off-road mission, so he celebrates and checks how much progress is completed. All he needs to do is to complete the remote control missions and collect more hidden packages as well as completing stunt jumps.

Claude returns to the parking lot and takes a break. From there, he makes plans working for the rest of the day such as collecting hidden packages and doing other side missions too.

In the afternoon, Claude explores the whole Shoreside Vale, and their districts are not too safe or unsafe. The afternoon work begins with Claude collecting more hidden packages but with more caution in Cedar Grove. Not only does he collect more hidden packages by exploring areas that are unexplored but also finds more unique stunt ramps in the best places in the region. These activities continue until Claude reaches Francis International Airport, but there are a lot more to the airport than it seems to be. Claude manages to complete multiple unique stunt jumps while speeding through many locations within the airport. At some point, he continues to drive around fast and quickly while feeling like taking off. Finally, Claude spots the hangar with the Dodo.

For the first time, Claude enters the Dodo with wings that are half the size of normal. As the wings are smaller, the Dodo may be difficult to fly, combined with inexperienced flying to go around. As a result, Claude navigates to the runway and takes off like normal, but the first part of flying involves the inexperienced pilot making lots of errors and almost crashes. Eventually, the last part of work for the day is making even more progress on the imports and exports this time.

After making progress on the imports and exports list, Claude commutes back to Wichita Heights nearby and goes to the third safehouse. He goes upstairs in the apartment and rests.

Claude gets out of the safehouse and plans on spending more time in Shoreside Vale. There must be an RC mission nearby to be completed. This is also the planned activity for the morning. The plan for the rest of the morning and the afternoon is just mostly going around Shoreside Vale and Staunton Island. Claude believes there is another RC side mission in Staunton Island while these missions in Portland Island may have been completed once a new enemy gang has been warned.

Once the plan has been done, Claude exits the front of his safehouse and begins work as it is behind the apartment. The work happens to begin when Claude enters the van behind what is known as the apartment's backyard. The van has RC car controls that can be exploded to kill.

This begins the Rumpo Rampage mission. The mission is to explode as many Southside Hood Rumpo vans as possible as well as some gang members out there. Since the explosion is remote-controlled, almost nobody can tell who controls the toys. Claude controls one toy per kill and drives it towards the nearest Rumpo to explode upon. The mission lasts for two hours. These two hours are enough time to explode multiple vans and kill more Southside Hoods members. As nobody noticed this, Wichita Gardens are still considered safe because the gang there is never as hostile as most of the gangs throughout the city. After two hours are gone, Claude exits the van.

After the rampage, Claude continues to explore Shoreside Vale and find various hidden packages and unique stunt jumps to do. In the middle of the day, he ends up in Pike Creek to take a rest over there. He is in the part of the district where the final main mission takes place. From there, he officially exits the section by possibly driving and performing another stunt jump over.

The afternoon is mostly spent doing other things. The first activity in the afternoon is just flying over Shoreside Vale. Claude continues to go and drive to the airport to reenter the Dodo.

Again, Claude takes off with the Dodo and learns that the short wings are the cause of an abnormal way of flying. In other words, the Dodo rarely stays airborne and manages to fly over unexplored parts of Shoreside Vale. Claude keeps descending the plane and keeps on messing the plane up, which rather controls the plane instead of messing up. As the flight continues, the map also shows various words of places that have not been explored before. Claude even revisits the part of Shoreside Vale where he robbed the bank and got betrayed, in which most of the citizens call this a ghost town. The reason being is that the tunnels connecting there are closed this time.

The rest of the day is spent on more imports and exports. Mostly fast vehicles and other expensive vehicles to be taken, Claude steals many of them from various places and goes back and forth. He even takes his own Blista minivan to the garage to complete the request, so that the other garage space is open for a second vehicle to be stored. Now one garage space is empty.

Claude wraps up for the day and makes a commute to Staunton Island, which leaves no vehicles in the Wichita Gardens safehouse garage. Last, he enters the elevator and begins to rest.

Claude gets out of the safehouse and plans on spending more time in Staunton Island. There must be an RC mission nearby to be completed. This is also the planned activity for the morning. The plan for the rest of the morning and the afternoon is just mostly going around the island and completing more collectibles, including unique stunt jumps. The only difference for the second half of the day is trying to get more vehicles into the Portland docks until completed later on.

Once the plan has been done, Claude exits the front of his safehouse and drives to the casino to begin the side mission. The work happens to begin when Claude enters the van just like yesterday. The van has RC car controls that can be exploded to kill, which is familiar too.

This begins the Casino Calamity mission. The mission is to explode as many Yakuza stinger gang cars as possible as well as some gang members out there. Since the explosion is remote-controlled, almost nobody can tell who controls the toys. Claude controls one toy per kill and drives it towards the nearest Stinger to explode upon. The mission lasts for two hours. These two hours are enough time to explode multiple vans and kill more Yakuza members. As nobody noticed this, Torrington is still considered safe because the gang there is also never as hostile as most of the gangs throughout the city. After two hours are gone, Claude exits the van.

After the rampage, Claude continues to explore Staunton Island and find various hidden packages and unique stunt jumps to do. In the middle of the day, he ends up in Bedford Point to take a rest over there, in the TW@ internet cafe to revisit the first two games played. From there, he officially exits the section by possibly driving and performing another stunt jump over.

The afternoon is mostly spent doing other things. The first activity in the afternoon is just generally exploring Staunton Island going from downtown to uptown as well as flying if time.

Again, Claude takes off with the Dodo after a quick visit to the airport. This time, he tries to fly above the tallest buildings downtown but fails to do so. Instead, he flies north over to see everything that is not possible to see on the ground such as the top of the football stadium. Last, Claude lands in Callahan Bridge instead of the airport because the plane is out of control. After landing the plane, it sits on the bridge while Claude moves on. More hidden packages are being collected, and more places have been explored. This part is basically a half-vacation day too.

The rest of the day is spent on more imports and exports. Claude commutes to Portland Island using stolen vehicles to be taken to the Portland docks. This may also include emergency vehicles. It is revealed the first vehicle to be taken to the dock today is the Rhino Tank from the army base on the northernmost point of the island. Other vehicles follow soon until Claude stops working for the day. The imports and exports are still not completed yet as well as the others.

Claude wraps up for the day and makes a commute back home like normal. Most of the side missions have been completed with a few to go. Last, he enters the room and goes to sleep.

Claude wakes up the next morning and plans on wrapping up everything from all three islands, which involves going back and forth. The day may also be divided into not only three but can be five or six, depending on the plan. The last regular work begins and also ends at Portland Island, and Staunton Island is expected to be visited twice. The Shoreside Vale section of the day may be either divided into two sections or be consolidated into only one section in the middle of the day.

In the Red Light District, Claude makes his own checklist on what needs to be completed first before thinking about taking over everything. The first set of reminders as the main missions have been completed already. This also includes the phone missions as well. All vehicle missions involving emergency vehicles may have been completed mostly. Claude believes most missions involving hostile gangs and their turf has been completed well before the turf becomes restricted by the gang. In other words, Claude makes additional restricted areas in a weird way. This means normally, the airport is the most common restricted area but only on the runway area, but Claude manages to enter without restrictions and fly the Dodo. While gang turfs seem normal, they are the main restricted areas due to their gang not welcoming Claude to the turf in most bad places.

After a huge plan of checklists, there are tasks to be completed. First is collecting hidden packages and completing unique stunt jumps, in which has been completed. Next is to finish up the imports and exports. By the end of the morning, the imports and exports for both Portland parts had been completed. Claude can now choose a vehicle from the export list to get for free.

In the middle of the day, Claude notices that the planning takes a lot more time than the real action. The afternoon is now planned to become more like the real action than a quiet plan.

In the afternoon, Claude quickly finishes up the remaining vehicle missions in Portland Island involving strong vehicles. Shortly after, he goes to Staunton Island and collects half of all of the packages and stunt jumps, which is mostly south. He changes his mind to do everything in Staunton Island before moving onto Shoreside Vale, so he does so for the rest of the time. Now the last thing to do is located in Shoreside Vale, with more collecting all types of things to do.

In Shoreside Vale, Claude collects all of the vehicles for the Pike Creek garage imports and exports request. The rest of the day involves collecting all 100 packages with the last one in Shoreside Vale. Claude also completes twenty unique stunt jumps and twenty rampages, all of which is finally done in Shoreside Vale. Last, he returns to the safehouse and sees the rewards.

It is revealed that a perfect completion does not give rewards at all. Instead, the progress towards it gives the rewards instead. For example, completing the vigilante side missions results in all guns, armor, health, and six police bribes delivered to all three safehouses. Most vehicles can be picked up at the import and export sites either for free or for some money, but Claude has lots of money as of now. He then returns to the Red Light District safehouse and sprints all the way to the taxi garage. He sees the Borgnine taxi as the special reward. Also, Claude runs around Portland Island without being tired. This is the last reward to see and is from the Paramedic.

After all the rewards for gradually completing the regular missions, Claude returns home and explores the rewards area one more time. Last, he sees the outside and goes to bed to sleep.

Chapter 8

Finally, Claude is done with all regular missions, which consists of both main and side missions. The new plan for Claude is to basically be free and take over something. The actions all go in order, starting from Portland Island and ending in Shoreside Vale. Sometimes, the action may end back in Portland Island, depending on the outcome. Generally, Claude wants to explore all places and wreck almost everything in the process, thinking about winning over the police.

Claude uses the quiet way of using various tools to take over and get a lot of power. Since the day always begins just before sunrise, Claude has enough time to find a prostitute in the Red Light District and have sex. This increases the health to not 100 health but 125 health. After this, he goes into the Portland Docks and grabs a police car. He then practices going around Portland Island, mostly in the safest locations, and shooting random pedestrians around with the weakest weapons such as the fish and the pistol. Bats are rarely used. Claude also does not want to take the risk of fighting most of the hostile gangs, so he simulates what it is like to kill the enemies.

Once Claude is done with the easy Portland Island practice, he moves onto the Staunton Island practice session to go around. This time, he moves up to using a shotgun and a pistol. Like with the upgraded set of weapons, the shotgun is known for killing pedestrians in three to four shots, shooting multiple enemies at once, and exploding vehicles in a few shots to kick out.

Finally, Claude makes his last journey to Shoreside Vale with a different tier. Before the last trip happens, the fourth level of practice involves using micro-SMGs or UZIs and driving the Enforcer, a strong truck that the SWAT normally uses. Once Claude enters Staunton Island, he goes into the fifth level, which is mainly using the black FBI Kuruma and AK-47s. Unlike before the 2000s, the FBI normally uses assault rifles instead of SMGs. The FBI set is considered as the second strongest set, just behind the army. The sixth and final level of practice involves the army set, which includes the army truck and the tank. The army truck may be faster and stronger than the FBI car, but the tank is far slower but is capable of exploding vehicles when it crashes. Not to mention that the army uses carbine rifles or the M16, which has the same abilities as the shotgun but fires at a much faster rate. The M16 is one of the strongest weapons with the rocket launcher, the grenade, the flamethrower, etc. Claude has all the sets he needs to basically get the power.

Eventually, Claude returns back to Portland Island after a quiet practice. He goes back to the safehouse in the Red Light District. Last, he goes to bed and sleeps as the last sleep of life.

Claude wakes up with all the powers he needs and plans on leveling to the sixth and final level to try winning over the army. One Man Army is almost impossible, but can be possible whenever at least someone is considered overpowered with a lot of abilities to protect themselves in different ways. This is done by either the hard way, which is avoiding as many attacks as possible, and the easy way, which involves additional protection that allows for massacres of officers and troops.

With everything planned, Claude takes on controlling everything while not talking, so at least one city in the world is affected by the one without talking or speech. The process is starting gradually with Claude getting to the police station and stealing the police cars. Now he drives to a nearby police officer, gets wanted, and begins shooting. This gives him a wanted level of two.

Since most police officers shoot with pistols at the wanted level of two, Claude continues to shoot not with just a pistol but also a shotgun. The shotgun causes multiple deaths of officers and explosions of nearby vehicles. This causes Claude to have a wanted level of three. The third wanted level is similar to the second, but helicopters are deployed. Meanwhile, Claude moves to Staunton Island to continue the wreck around the city. Even with the helicopters deployed, every police officer is killed, so Claude moves to a wanted level of four. The police become more hard to take out, and the SWAT team is deployed. Meanwhile, Claude steals an Enforcer from the big police station in Staunton Island and drives until he makes his way to the FBI level. He tends to fight the officers at least one level ahead of the current one, meaning he shoots with an AK-47.

As soon as the SWAT team and a lot of police units have been defeated, the FBI gets the mission to take down Claude, while a wanted level of five has been issued. Claude retreats to the TW@ internet cafe, and the FBI surrounds him inside. The team does not bother going inside the building and waits for Claude to exit, only planning to shoot and kill him quickly. Claude throws several grenades, shoots with rocket launchers, and sometimes burns with flamethrowers to clear the scene. From then on, there are no enemies to deal with, so Claude moves to Shoreside Vale.

Before going there, Claude goes to Phil's army surplus and gets the tank. He commutes to Shoreside Vale on the wrong side of the Porter Tunnel and explodes several FBI squads. At last, he stops at Francis International Airport and manages to fight all of the surrounding FBI units. Normally, the sixth wanted level is so difficult that it may be considered removed as the FBI is so strong that it manages to kill even the strongest criminals, but some criminals manage to move to the sixth wanted level, especially the times before the early 2000s. Claude is going to be next.

By the time Claude reaches the sixth wanted level, he can sprint as fast as he can without being tired and does not need sleep. As a result, the fight continues overnight and into multiple days. The sixth wanted level is defined when most of the police and FBI are replaced with the army, which contains the strongest set ever obtained. The army then tries to ram the vehicles that Claude drives, which most of the time heavily damage it with the truck or explode with the tank. However, Claude drives the tank around the sixth wanted level, and other soldiers are driving the same tank as well. However, the collision from tank to tank does nothing. The only way to make the tank explode is flipping it, but the tank is too strong for other vehicles to control its action.

With the sixth wanted level still in place and hard to escape, Claude drives everywhere in Liberty City and slightly destroys everything in the process by exploding nearby traffic. Liberty City is still not destroyed yet, but Claude continues to make slight changes throughout all places until he reaches Shoreside Vale again. From then on, he reaches the top of the dam to celebrate as he nearly wins over all the police and army. Finally, he fights near the two tunnels and gets in.

The tunnels leading to the outside world have been closed for over a season. Claude can think and reflect about the last time the tunnels were open was when the Enforcer took him and other bank robbers to an unknown prison location, which could be the Portland View station.

Eventually, Claude uses all powers to move around and escape the wanted level of all the police force, the army, and most gangs that are considered enemies. For one last time, he views the whole map from the hill above Cedar Grove. As no army enters the hill, the only way to stop the chaos is the police helicopter, but multiple helicopters tend to be shot down the hill. Finally, Claude continues to mess around and make the tunnel reopen, but the hill's terrain may cause the erosion to change Liberty City significantly. Somehow, a huge power messes and destroys all the buildings and blocks off most of the roads while erosion reshapes how all three regions look.

The extreme change causes everything to be mostly destroyed, and the police and army is not the winner of the journey. Everyone needs to work on reconstruction, which can take years.

Works Cited

“Grand Theft Auto III” Fandom

https://gta.fandom.com/wiki/Grand_Theft_Auto_III

Not only the third work of the series but also the first major work of the series somehow. The player fails a bank robbery after being shot by his ex-girlfriend and rides in custody until the bridge explosion frees passengers. Despite the player not being able to talk and speak, can he make progress, get revenge, and eventually rule Liberty City?

About Me: I already made a popular series in my channel, teach several lessons in Roblox, and develops four series of stories.

grand theft auto III

Gener Guzman

